PCB East 2025 Exhibition Floor Sold Out

PEACHTREE CITY, GA – APRIL 22, 2025 – The exhibition floor is sold out for PCB East, the largest exhibition and conference for printed circuit board design, fabrication and assembly in New England, the Printed Circuit Engineering Association (PCEA) said today.

“Coming off an outstanding PCB East 2024, booth sales for our 2025 event have been strong,” said Frances Stewart, vice president of sales and marketing at PCEA. “We’re looking forward to another great event.”

PCB East will be held April 29 - May 2, at the Boxboro Regency Hotel & Conference Center in Boxborough, MA. The one-day exhibition takes place April 30.

This year’s exhibition will feature more than 65 industry-leading companies, ranging from printed circuit board design software developers to fabricators and assemblers, and equipment and materials suppliers. Attendees will be treated to a free lunch on the expo floor during the exhibition on April 30.

Attendees will also gain access to six free technical sessions featuring topics on AI and PCB design, flex design, simulation, UHDI, PCB signal layers, and more.

Following the close of the exhibition and free technical sessions, a reception will take place on the exhibition floor sponsored by Cofactr and EMA Design Automation.

To conclude the day, a PCB design community meetup will meet at the conference center.

Anyone who registers at pcbeast.com for the exhibition and free sessions by April 29 will receive free admission. Day of show registration for the exhibition and free sessions is $25.

PRINTED CIRCUIT DESIGN & FAB and CIRCUITS ASSEMBLY magazines are media partners for the event.
